CUSTOM HOMES
DIVISION

WOOD, STEEL AND STONE ARE OUR MATERIALS, BUT comfort is our business.

Delivering Comfort. A home is so much more than the sum of its parts — it's a favorite, comfortable, place where people gather to make the memories of a lifetime. Your home is practically a member of your family, which is why we work tirelessly to make sure it's a place you'll love spending time in for many years.

At Nor-Son, we do everything we can to ensure that the experience of building your new home is comfortable and enjoyable for you. We make it simple by handling every aspect of your project—from architecture and design, to interior design and custom cabinetry, to all phases of the construction process. By handling your project from beginning to end, we're able to make your home building experience easy, cost-effective and comfortable.

Fostering Communication. Our goal is to create the home of your dreams, and to make the process not only easy and fun, but clear. We do that by listening carefully, responding to your needs, and fostering an ongoing exchange of information.

Providing Care. Creating your home from scratch is an exciting experience. Even so, we know it can bring its share of challenges. That's why we make your comfort an essential part of what we do. Our experienced architects and construction professionals work carefully to eliminate your concerns by staying on top of every detail and providing you with regular updates every step of the way.

"Communication is their byword. There were no surprises because each step – major to miniscule – was talked over with us and the team."

— LaVyrle Spencer

Instilling Confidence. For over 30 years, Nor-Son has been a trusted name in custom home building. Our award-winning experience and superior record for quality control and safety means you can feel confident that every detail and need will be carefully met. What's more, we proudly stand behind our work with our warranty and maintenance programs, so you're always part of the Nor-Son family.

TAKE COMFORT IN HIRING NOR-SON.
FEEL COMFORT AFTER HIRING NOR-SON.

“Comfort” doesn’t just describe the structures we build; it describes our entire process. Since 1978, Nor-Son, Inc. has provided the highest level of craftsmanship and personal attention possible, ensuring a smooth, positive client experience. We carefully treat each dollar as if it’s our own, aggressively managing all costs so we deliver more quality for the same price. Our clients’ structures have been profiled in numerous industry publications, and our list of national awards continues to grow. With Nor-Son, you can take comfort in knowing your project is being handled by some of the most dedicated and highly skilled consulting, design and construction professionals in the nation.

“Every person who visits our house comments on its unique features and craftsmanship. Thank you so much for bringing 1917 back to life on our long-time family property.”
